About this album

The Cronus Seatbelt Safety meme was born during the livestream of the Beforus album, during the track Land of Cruisin and Bruisin by Nate Tronerud. Tumblr user princeskytoe remarked upon Cronus' lack of a visible seatbelt in the track art, which resulted in various users joking about his disregard for road safety and the fact that he was "cruising for a bruising".

Bee memes made an appearance during the Beforus Album stream when album director and stream manager Blackhole (Not-Terezi-Pyrope) imposed various bee images over the booklet pages being shown in the stream, causing users to flood the stream chat with exclamations about bees.

Soon after the Q&A session, the artists from the Q&A Skype group got talking, composing, and drawing. Six days later, we had an album on our hands.

Ladies, gentlemen, and non-binary folks: Bee-forus:
Seatbelt Safebee.

Blackhole: Jade you should make a track on your piano where you sing a raunchy ballad to the safety bot :P

Written by Magnoliajades

Hey there, hello mister safety bot
Is that a belt that you have strapped on?
You're teaching Cronus how to buckle up
But afterward I'll unfasten you

Unlike other robots, you're concerned for our safety, and that's attractive
Though what's safety without some danger
If you'd like, then I'll unfasten you

You make my motor run, keep it on
I could be the belt to your buckle
You make my horn go -beep beep-, do it again,
I could be the belt to your buckle
